KUROPATKIN STILL HELD MUKDEN

As Late as Thursday at Noon, But Hard
Pressed.

RUSSIANS RETREATING.

Fearful Battle Has Been Raging for Nearly Two Weeks.

St. Petersburg Thursday morning knew little more of the outcome of battle of Mukden than it knew Wednesday night, and little more of the fate of Gen. Kuropatkin's broken army. It is not even known whether the railroad has been cut and communications destroyed, though it is believed that the reported destruction of the line by Gen. Oku's army refers to the damage inflicted on Wednesday, which was not serious, though traffic was twice interrupted. It is evident, however, that the Japanese are pressing closer this indispensable line of retreat. Their shells occasionally cut the wires of the telegraph lines paralleling the railroad, and civilian line men are displaying no less bravery than their soldier associates by climbing poles and replacing the wires under fire.

Mukden at noon Thursday was still occupied by the Russians. Fu Pass, twelve miles to the eastward and on the Hun river, a vital point for Gen. Kuropatkin in the retreat of his eastern wing, was bombarded by the Japanese for an hour early in the day, Russian artillery replying vigorously. The outcome at that point seems to be in doubt. A windstorm of hurricane fury was in progress during the day. No reports from the Commander-in-chief later than Wednesday have been given out at St. Petersburg. Dispatches from Mukden indicate that considerable Japanese forces are well north of the city of Mukden, and that the railroad, upon which depends so much for the Russian army, is seriously threatened, if, indeed, it has not already been cut.

BEN HUR

Court Instituted Here With Large Membership.

D. E. Williams, Deputy Grand Chief of the Tribe of Ben Hur, assisted by the Supreme Deputy of Evansville, instituted a Court of that order here Tuesday night, with about forty members. Following is a list of officers chosen and installed: L. H. Grubbs, past chief, O. G. Craig, chief; R. E. Harter, judge; Mrs. Florence Lidsell, teacher; E. M. Moss, scribe; T. D. Bell, keeper of tribute; Maxey Wade, captain; J. H. White, guide; Mrs. Carrie Fears, K. of I. G.; Ben F. Grave, K. of O. G.

HARDESON HELD OVER

And Sent to Jail at Owensboro.

Poley Hardeason, of near Kirksmansville, charged with selling whiskey without having paid the special government tax, had his examining trial at Russellville Tuesday and was held over to the Federal court. He was committed to jail at Owensboro to await the action of the United States grand jury.

To Marry in April.

Mr. Max M. Hanbery, of Cadiz, and Miss Cordie Francis, formerly of Roaring Spring, but now of Nashville, will be married early in April at the home of the bride-to-be.

Louisville Merchant.

Moses Levy, the well known Louisville retail merchant, died this week of acute indigestion.

DIED IN TEXAS.

Victim of Pneumonia and Formerly Lived at La-Fayette.

Lafayette, Kr., March, 9.—The many friends of Mr. R. H. Tomlinson will learn with regret of his death which occurred last Friday morning at his home No. 127 Noble Ave., Dallas, Texas, of pneumonia. Mr. Tomlinson came here in 1874 from Clarksville, Tenn., and stayed until the last of Jan. 1883, when he went to Dallas, where he has since made his home. He was a painter and contractor by trade and had accumulated some property since he went to Texas. He leaves a widow and six children besides many friends among the rich and poor alike to mourn his death. His popularity was attested by the vast concourse of people who followed his remains to Greenwood Cemetery, where the interment took place at 10 o'clock a. m., Saturday, March 11th, and by the beautiful and expensive floral designs which completely covered the grave.

Mr. Tomlinson was a consistent member of the Christian church and was about 55 years old.

GENERAL RAIN

Followed by Drop in Temperature and Clearing Conditions.

After two days of gloomy and rainy weather it cleared off Thursday night and yesterday was an ideal one. During the forty-eight hours preceding Thursday midnight the rainfall was 2.33 inches, filling the streets, cleaning the streets and flushing the streams, though the larger ones did not overflow. The mercury dropped about twenty-five degrees and the government thermometer registered 32 degrees yesterday morning. The prediction for Kentucky, sent out from yesterday, was for generally fair weather today, moderately cool. So, we are at last to have one more day of fine weather before March storm conditions appear again, according to the forecast.

AGAINST HARGIS

Will Be The Decision In The Jurisdiction Case.

Frankfort, Ky., March 9.—The opinion of the court has been prepared by Judge O'Rear, who delivered the opinion in the Bullitt-Jefferson jurisdiction case, and it will probably be handed down at tomorrow's session.

It was persistently rumored, and upon good authority, before court met today, that by vote of 4 to 2 the Judges have decided against the Hargises and sent the case to Fayette for trial. Color was given to this rumor by the fact that the opinion of the court is to be delivered by Judge O'Rear, who wrote the opinion in the Barbour-Hagan case. There will be a dissenting opinion.

WALKER-CLIFFORD.

Hopkinsville Boy Wedded at Camden, Ark.

News has been received in the city of the marriage last week in Camden, Ark., of Mr. Chester Walker and Miss Christine Clifford, of that place. The wedding took place at the home of the bride on Feb. 27th. Mr. Walker is a son of former officer George W. Walker, of this city, and is a deservingly popular young man. He left Hopkinsville about two years ago and went to Arkansas, and had, until recently, lived at Camden, where he met Miss Clifford. His bride is said to be a young lady of rare beauty and many accomplishments. Mr. Walker now resides at Memphis, Tenn., and young couple left immediately after the ceremony for that city.

Mrs. Louisa Evans, wife of Judge Walter Evans, of the Federal Court, is in a critical condition from heart trouble and complications.

NUMBER SEVEN ALSO GETS A LIFE SENTENCE.

Dick Carney's Neck Saved by His Second Trial.

MERRIWETHER NEXT.

The One Who First Knocked
the Victim Senseless With a Stick.

Dick Carney, for some reason known only to the jury that tried him, was given only a sentence of life imprisonment. It begins to look like old George Holland is to be the only one of the gang of incarnate fiends to be hanged for murdering the unknown traveler as he slumbered by his camp fire. Carney was not only there, according to the testimony of the two who turned State's evidence, but he was an actual participant in the murderous work. The jury a year ago said he should hang, but the jury this time voted to send him to Eddyville instead of to the gallows. Of seven of the men tried, six have been given life sentences and only one is to forfeit his life. The courts have not justified the confidence of the people, who could have lynched the brute, but turned them over to the law for punishment.

Another venire was summoned Thursday and a jury made up yesterday to try Frank Merriwether, one of the alleged leaders in the assassination. Two or more of the gang have sworn that Merriwether was the first assailant, that he crept up with a bludgeon in his hands and knocked the man on the head, and then Holland sprang upon him and cut his throat. Merriwether was given a death sentence a year ago and secured a new trial. If he is to escape the gallows this time, as the others have, there will be no impartial justice in the execution of the one who finished the murder begun by Merriwether.

It is said the jury in the case of Charles Finch stood 11 to 1 for hanging and that the Carney jury stood 4 to 8 for the death penalty.

The following jury will try Merriwether:

James Cooper, I. H. Wicks, R. S. Cain, J. W. Stiller, C. H. King, B. P. Cravens, R. E. Hill, A. E. Word, E. F. Blakeley, Frank P. Graves, A. H. Wallace and F. W. McCrae.

The jury was made up with much difficulty, 101 men being examined in all. The Commonwealth began taking evidence at 3:30 p. m.

Factories for Kentucky.

Mr. L. D. Sampson, a well known Kentucky newspaper man, formerly proprietor of the Barbourville News and for some years engaged in the newspaper syndicate business in Chicago, is endeavoring to locate some large manufacturing concerns in Kentucky.

Through its newly organized commercial club, Georgetown has secured the large Asphalt concern with which Secretary Paul Morton and other Chicago men are connected. Mr. Sampson has just opened an office at 140 Dearborn street, Chicago, and has been commissioned by several large and well established concerns to find locations for new or branch factories. He desires to hear from Kentucky towns which offer natural advantages in the way of fuel, raw material, transportation facilities and equitable labor conditions.

A $100 Scratch.

Louis Musselman, a boy in Louisville, was scratched by a gorilla in John Robinson's show. He sued for $5,000 and has been paid $100 as a compromise. The boy was poking a stick into the monkey's cage at too close range.

FALLS TO COOPER.

Will be Collector of Internal Revenue in Danville District.

Washington, March 8.—There was a most interesting conference at the White House yesterday afternoon, when President Roosevelt decided to appoint J. S. Cooper Revenue Collector for the Eighth Revenue district to succeed James Denton. The President has a characteristic way of doing things. He has been approached so often by this and that person concerning the Collectorship fight that he determined, as he said, to call all of the principals together and let them "have it out face to face."

Accordingly, there gathered at the White House, Commissioner Yerkes, representing James Denton, and D. C. Edwards, R. P. Ernst and James B. Bennett, representing Mr. Cooper. The whole subject was threshed over in the most kindly spirit. Once during the proceedings the President passed to remark, "Gentlemen, I am glad to know that complete harmony prevails in the Republican camp in Kentucky." After an exhaustive hearing the President said: "Well, gentlemen, I shall appoint Mr. Cooper, and he will take office July 1, at the beginning of the next fiscal year. You can make the announcement right away."

The appointment of Cooper is a distinct victory for Mr. Edwards, who has worked for him in season and out of season.

DEATH IN OLD AGE.

Mother of Mrs. Monroe McGee Passes Away.

News was received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. R. J. Culpepper, mother of Mrs. W. M. McGee, at her home at Lower Peachtree, Ala. She was eighty-four years old and has many relatives in Christian county. Her daughter, Mrs. McGee, was summoned by a telegram announcing her serious illness; and was at her bedside when the end came.

Never Quarreled.

More than twenty-five years of age and married more than half a century, during which years he never exchanged an angry word with wife, such is the proud boast of Jas. Mills, proprietor of a hotel in the Bronx, New York City. The fact that Mr. Mills and his wife are as spry as many who are half their age is conceded to be proof that harmonious wedding life is a bar to time's encroachments.

Washington, D. C., March 10.— For Kentucky—Generally fair Saturday. Moderately cool.

Editor D. O. Groff, of Nicholasville, is a candidate for representative from Jessamine county.

Gov. Beckham has designated August 1 as Kentucky Day at the Portland Exposition. The exposition will open June 1.

The date of President Roosevelt's stop-over in Louisville on his way to Texas has been definitely decided upon. He will be there from 9 to 11 a. m. on April 4.

Col. E. G. Sebree, of Henderson, is a candidate to succeed "Broncho" Franks as Collector of Internal Revenue for this district. W. H. Overby, of the same place, is also a candidate.

In Powell county John Knox and Miss Dora Graham were converted at a revival and were baptized together in Stillwater creek, and before going out of the water were united in marriage by Rev. M. Tolson, who baptized them.

At Tullahoma, Tenn., a negro in jail for larceny was taken out by a mob and hanged. A Louisiana negro was once lynched "on general principles," but this is the first time plain stealing has been made the excuse for mob law.

They are having a lawsuit in Chicago trying to move a negro family off one of the fashionable streets.
A woman, mistaken for a white woman, rented a fine house and opened a boarding house in it before it was discovered that her husband was a negro.

An Illinois girl saved up 11,700 pennies, in the town of Rockford, where chewing gum and roasted peanuts were at all times on sale, and sent them to a savings bank.
The mass weighed more than 70 pounds. A girl like that has some

Dr. Osier says man's usefulness ends at forty. Probably Dr. Osier's did; but at forty Gen. Grant was an unknown clerk in a leather shop at Galena, Ill. He began his worldwide military career at forty-three and was President at forty-seven.— Maysville Ledger. And it may be added that only one President out of 25 became such at a younger age than Gen. Grant. It may also be added that Washington was a Virginia farmer of but little prominence until he was 43 years old.

The National Editorial Association will meet at Guthrie, Oklahoma, June 5th, and after a meeting of three or four days, in which the business sessions will be alternated with sight-seeing, the association will leave on a special train for a tour of California, and Oregon returning by Salt Lake City. President Louis Landrum, of the Kentucky Press Association, has the appointment of eight or ten delegates from Kentucky.

Senator Wm. B. Bate, for many years one of Tennessee's United States Senators, died in Washington Thursday, after a brief illness, of pneumonia. He was born in Sumner county, Tenn., Oct. 7, 1826, became a clerk on a steamboat and in 1848 enlisted as a private soldier in the war against Mexico and served throughout the war. Published a newspaper at Gallatin, served in the State Legislature, studied law and in 1854 was elected attorney-general of his district. Was a presidential elector in 1860, entered the Confederate army as captain and was three times wounded in battle, losing a leg. He filled many positions of honor after the war and before entering the Senate served two terms as Governor. He was serving his fourth term as Senator.

CANNING FACTORY ASSURED.

Enough Stock Subscribed to Make It a Certainty.

WILL ORGANIZE TO-DAY.

Stockholders Will Meet at Moayon's Hall For Election of Officers.

The canning factory for Hopkinsville is a go.

Enough stock has already been subscribed to make the plant a certainty, and the stockholders will meet at Moayon's Hall to-day at one o'clock p. m., to elect directors and other officers.

The company will be capitalized at $15,000 and will get to business without a moment's delay. A lot will be purchased, the building erected and the machinery installed within ninety days. The plan is to have the company ready for operations June 1st.

Mr. R. E. Sturgis, who has been here two weeks working up the matter, will remain another week, until the balance of the stock has been subscribed for and contracts let. He represents the Chicago Building and Manufacturing Company, which will furnish the machinery. The Rev. Dixon C. Williams, the well known evangelist, is vice president of that company and also its general manager. He is expected to be here for the meeting to-day and may remain over-tomorrow and preach at some one of the churches.

In "The Twentieth Century Home" for March George Rutledge Gibson makes a strong plea for state aid for cooking schools. Almost every state in the Union has agricultural schools and colleges, and some of them schools in horticulture and forestry, which are common pursuits. But no state or national provision is made for women to learn how to prepare improved varieties of plant and animal-life. The need is obvious.

Action in the Colorado governmental contest has been deferred until the opinion of the State Supreme Court can be had on the question whether the office of Governor can be declared vacant. The Republicans seem to be resolved to count Gov. Adams out, but enough of them to hold the balance of power are opposed to Peabody and want to seat the Lieutenant Governor, McDonald.

The Democratic Committee of Calloway county a week ago met and demanded the resignation of Chairman L. A. L. Langston, on the ground that he is a candidate for office and cannot hold his place under the rules. Mr. Langston is the Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Schools. He asked for a week's time, which was granted, and the committee will meet again today.

Schedule Committee Will

morrow.

HOPTOWN NOT READY.

Directors Will Have To Anticipate The Business Men's Backing.

The presidents of the various baseball clubs of the K. I. T. League and the local schedule committee will meet in Paducah tomorrow to arrange the schedule and to formally take charge of the $200 forfeit that each club must deposit. The money was put up by check at the former meeting, Paducah vouching for Hopkinsville, but by tomorrow the treasurer's bond is expected to be ready for approval and the actual money must be put up. There has been no public movement to collect the $200 in this city, but it will be put up by the directors and later the business men will be asked to give the club a local backing as was done last year. It will take something like $1,500 to put the club on a solid foundation.

There is interest enough in the game this year to raising of money no difficult matter. Some business men have already expressed a willingness to donate as much as $50.
The association just now needs active leadership. Mr. W. M. Hancock's business now requires all of his time and he is anxious to retire from the presidency of the club as soon as proper successor can be found. The matter should be taken in hand today and the necessary arrangements made to hold the franchise at Paducah tomorrow and then get the park in shape for practice games by April 1st. Don't put this off, gentlemen of the Directory, but call a meeting not later than tonight. It is time to get busy, if the city is to play ball this season.

-Chat off the Bat-

Princeton says they have secured Jeffries, while the player says he is going to Memphis.

Blackburn, who played short for Clarksville, has signed a Toledo contract, but Paducah is after Manager Finn to farm him out to Paducah.
Anderson, the hard-hitting third baseman of Clarksville, has signed with Atlanta.

The sale of season tickets has not been as good as expected, but on account of the bad weather has not been pushed much. The stock holders have agreed to make a canvass next week and try and run the remainder of the tickets sold to 200.— Henderson Journal.

Henderson will have representatives at the schedule meeting in Paducah March 12. Captain Abbott Veneth, of Evansville, has been asked to make a schedule along the lines desired by Henderson, and it will be presented to the committee, and entered in the competition for the prize of $25.

Robert Lee Fuller, formerly a member of the K. I. T. League, is dead at Louisville as the result of a surgical operation for kidney trouble. His death occurred at Norton Memorial Infirmary. Mr. Fuller was 25 years old. His brother, Harry Fuller, played last season in the Virginia League.

The Cairo and Paducah papers which have taken a peculiar delight in reading or rather writing Henderson and Hopkinsville out of the league, will now please be good.
President Brown has evidently told the young men who preside over the sporting desks for these sheets just how much he thinks of them and their pipe dreams. The figuring they do is not worth any consideration but their long-winded yarns about the shaky conditions in this city, groundless in every respect, serves only to make the matter of financing the team the harder. But with all the senseless knocking from Cairo and Paducah, Henderson will be in the league, and will stay the season out. Other towns are woefully more weak than old Henderson.—Gleaner.

INDIANA WEDDINGS

Hereafter to Be Very Serious Transactions.

A new bill just passed in Indiana provides that no license to marry shall be issued except upon written and verified application, which shall set out full particulars as to name, age, residence, etc., of both the contracting parties, all for the purpose of placing it in the power of the clerk to determine whether any legal impediment to the proposed marriage exists. These applications shall be made upon blanks to be furnished by the state board of health.
No person who is an imbecile, epileptic, of unsound mind, nor an improvident or indigent person, nor any person afflicted with a trans-missible disease shall be allowed to marry. Should the clerk refuse to issue a license for any of the given reasons in the bill, the person making the application may resort to the circuit court to prove his or her right to a license.

If persons go to another state for marriage with intent to evade the Indiana law, and return for residence to this state, the marriage shall be void. A fine not to exceed $500 is to be the penalty for falsely swearing to an affidavit when application is made for a marriage license. A person who knowingly solemnizes a marriage of persons who have not complied with the statute shall be subject to a fine of not to exceed $500, while a clerk of a court who shall issue a license contrary to the provisions of the law shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100.

The house will probably concur in the senate amendments, and the bill will then go to the governor.

A. M. PALMER DEAD

Veteran Theatrical Manager Victim Apoplexy.

New York, March 8.—A. M.
Palmer, the theatrical manager, who was stricken Monday with apoplexy, died yesterday in a hospital. Mr.
Palmer was for years the most prominent theatrical manager in America. He was sixty-seven years old. Mr. Palmer was a native of Connecticut. For ten years, beginning in 1872, he was manager of Union Square Theater, and afterward of Madison Square Theater and Palmer's Theater. He was a founder and for fourteen years president of the Actors' Fund of America, and one of the founders and vice president of the Players' Club of this city. Lately he had been manager for Richard Mansfield.

Not since Rev. John S. Keene won 150 souls to Christ, twenty years have been converted and reclaimed, and of these about thirty have given their names to join the Methodist church, fourteen the Baptist and one the Christian church.—Cloverport

COUNTY NOT LIABLE

For Damages Sustained by Citizen Falling Through Bridge.

The Court of Appeals in the case of Hardwick vs. Franklin, from Graves County, decided that, as the county government is an integral part of the state government, neither the county, County Judge nor Justices can be held liable in damages sustained by a citizen falling through a defective bridge, even if it was proved that the County Court was grossly negligent in not having the bridge repaired.

GREAT RUSSIAN SCHOLAR

Memory of Pypin, Whose Name Was Known to the Limits of Fatherland, Is Cherished.

St. Petersburg.—Recently there died here one of Russia's foremost scholars and writers, N. N. Pypin, whose name was known beyond the limits of his fatherland. In a literary career extending over a period of 50 years, Pypin has shown a remarkable versatility and thoroughness as a historian of Russia and other Slavonic literatures. He was one of the few great Russian scholars and writers who stood consistently for progressive development of Russian life along the lines of European civilization.

A. N. PYPIN.
(Famous Russian Scholar, Who Recently Passed Away.)

Apart from his historical researches and special studies, he devoted much time to the translation into Russian of valuable foreign works, and to the writing and editing of journalistic articles. Born at Tarasov, in 1823, Pypin obtained his academic education at the University of St. Petersburg, where he was appointed to a professorship in 1860. Two years later he found himself obliged to tender his resignation, on account of the student disturbances which had occurred at that time. Pypin then turned to the literary field, and became a contributor to the Sovremennik (Contemporary). With the suspension of the latter, in 1869, he joined the circle of able collaborators of the Vestnik Evropy (European Messenger). From that time until the end of his life, Pypin had one or more articles in almost every number of the Vestnik.

In 1859, he published his first work, a comparative study of Russian, Byzantine and Roman folk-lore, the comparative texts of the two last named appearing in 1862. Following this there appeared his "History of Slavonic Literatures," which was published in St. Petersburg in 1876. The portion of this work dealing with Polish literature was written by V. Spasovitch. This fine work was very favorably received by foreign scholars, and was translated into German, French and Bohemian. Subsequently to this, Pypin published "The Intellectual Movements in Russia in the First Half of the Nineteenth Century," the first volume of which, treating of Russian society under Alexander I., has been translated into German.

Something extremely mysterious is to see a bit of a boy kick in India, says the Metropolitan, seemingly a very novice in his profession, sit down on the burgundy with only a rag of a cumberbund in which to conceal anything, pick up a twig of a green plant, strip off the leaves, and turning them into large scorpions, hurl them among the spectators, clap his hands once or draw a raveling from his clothes and rolling it up between his palms, suddenly toss a cobra several feet around the neck of one of the spectators.

SI PLUNKARD.

J. C. Lewis in the Ever Popular Comedy March 16.

J. C. Lewis and his talented company of comedians, in the Rural Comedy, Si Plunkard, will be at the Opera House Thursday, Mar. 16. Don't fail to see the Yankee farmer and his fun makers. Si and his Yankee farmer band will announce their arrival on the day of exhibition by a grand street parade. Watch for it and enjoy the amusement the famous band parade will offer. Do not confound this attraction with others imitating our country band parade.

Si Plunkard, the roaring, rousing rally of fun, as presented by J. C. Lewis and his big company of comedians will create barrels of laughter for those who are fond of fun at the Opera House, so those who wish an evening to drive away dull care should be on hand to see Si and his funny comedians in his new version of the rural comedy Si Plunkard. All new features, new novelties, everything new but the title. Also carrying the finest band and orchestra on the road. A rare treat for lovers of good classical music.

The Delinctor for April.

April being an important month in the fashion world, the April Delinctor is primarily a fashion number, containing an elaborate portrayal of the Spring styles and the latest fashion news. In the literary portion of the magazine the first installment of a new serial story by Albert Bigelow Paine is an item of note. It is called "The Lucky Piece; a Story of the Mountains," and promises well from the early chapters. In "The Rights of the Child," a new serial feature, it is announced, Dr. Grace P. Murray will discuss every phase of the care of children; the first paper, on "The Coming of the Child," contains information that has never been presented in popular form and will be of great assistance to young mothers. Another series "Little Sketches of Travel," opens with an intimate description of the children of Oberammergau, later to be known as the actors of the Passion Play. Amateur collectors will be able to gain much useful information from an article on lustre ware by N. Hudson Moore, and Gustav Kobbe contributes a very interesting paper, strikingly illustrated, on "The Stage and the Second Self." Short Stories by Virginia W. Cloud and Elmore E. Pogue are other features. In addition to pastimes and tales for children by L. Frank Baum, Grace MacGowan Cooke and others. The magazine is a work of particular interest and ably edited.

THE MAN FROM JACKSONVILLE.

A Buffalo Traveler Hears Some Good Things Said of a Great Buffalo Medical Institution.

It was in the smoking room of a great Atlantic liner, which had struck a cross-sea and was wallowing like the hog in the trough. With perfectly rhythmic motions she would now roll her lee scuppers toward the deep and then mounting a great hill-side or watery plain descending lunging on the other side. The deck chairs were chasing each other across the floor and a select party were gambling at a distant table in the corner, but most of the passengers were rendering tribute to Father Neptune in their bunks or on deck.

The man from Jacksonville was smoking like a furnace and talking with a fellow traveler. They had exhausted almost every known topic of current news and somehow or other the talk fell upon Buffalo, and the Jacksonville man was extolling it for its rapid growth. "But," he said, "you have something else beside material prosperity there, you have the greatest institution for the cure of disease there is on the face of the earth that I know of."

The Buffalo man picked up his ears. "Glad to hear it," he said, "what do you mean?"

"I mean Dr. Pierce's World's Dispensary Medical Association."

"What do you know about that?" asked the Buffalo man, still plating.

"I know that my wife was cured of an 'incurable' female trouble by their remedies and that my sister-in-law, who had been for thirty-seven years of her life hideously disfigured by lupus of the nose, was completely restored and is as good looking a middle-aged girl as you can see on the 'foot-stool' to-day. Every medical man in our part of the country had pronounced her case 'beyond' and 'irremovable.' Now she is all right and she is going to be married, and Dr. Pierce ought to be best man at that wedding if anybody should."

A representative of TRUTH called at the famous Invalids' Hotel, owned by the Pierce Association, acting upon these hints, and told Dr. W. Mott Pierce of what he had heard. "We get these things every day," he said, "only by letter and not, as now, by word of mouth. Look at this," and he took at random from a long line of what appeared to be scrap books and he opened it. "I don't know what is on that page," he said, "but these are testimonials of cured people voluntarily given, look them over."

There was some wonderful letters in that book as the reporter turned its pages. Afterwards expressing a desire to be shown the institution he was turned over to the guidance of a medical man who has an office next door to Dr. Pierce's and was shown through the place. On his way he met such well-known practitioners of medicine as Dr. Lee H. Smith, Dr. Oscar Harris and Dr. Stanley Babcock, and was informed by his guide that every letter received was personally passed upon by a regularly graduated physician, and that thereafter the case became his, and was by him treated, and if necessary consultations were had, but that no one except the physician in charge was permitted to see the correspondence.

Buffalo knows very little of what Pierce's Medical Dispensary means and is. Its mail costs oftentimes $400 a day, and it treats every malady which human flesh is heir. It manufactures its own medicines. Its employees are all specialists of recognized ability, duly certificated and diplomated. It prints all its own matter and its scientific devices are entirely up-to-date and of the highest grade of efficiency. Space forbids our relating the most interesting details of a trip through the establishment or of the wonders revealed to the newspaper man by Dr. Garrett, who is the authority on electricity of the establishment, and who has scrap book after scrap book of photographs taken by himself of parties, when undergoing treatment and when discharged as cured, many fractures of the bony structure being illustrated by the X-ray. Dr. Garrett is one of the most expert exponents of the Roentgen ray in the city, which is a part of the remedial agencies operated by the institution.

Of course, Dr. Pierce's Golden

Medical Discovery and the world-famous "Favorite Prescription" are too firmly established in the confidence of the people in the United States to need much description here, and Buffalo is justly proud of the institution to which reference is made and the fame of which is widespread.—From "Truth," January 21st, 1905.

REFUSED TO INDICT.

The Grand Jury Declines to Accuse Asylum Officials.

The effort to re-indict the officers and commissioners of the Western Asylum for illegally trading with the asylum, resulted in a flat refusal of the grand jury to go into the matter. The indictments returned by a former grand jury were resubmitted by Commonwealth's Attorney Smith and after witnesses were heard, they were returned endorsed "Refused to indict."

Dark Tobacco Planters.

W. H. Jesup & Co., with the Cooper and Hooper printing houses, have made a contract with the Dark Tobacco Association to prize tobacco for the farmers. Having employed the most competent men to class and prize, we will endeavor to prize your tobacco to the best advantage, and we take this plan of soliciting your patronage. Remember, good prices are dependent upon tobacco being properly handled. Assort your tobacco carefully as to length and color, separate the lugs from the leaf, let the long and short be carefully separated and do not put different colors in the same bundle. Put it in good keeping order. Stick to your organization, tell your neighbors about it, send us your tobacco to prize and you will realize much better prices than you have for many years past. Liberal advances on tobacco in store.

Respectfully,

W. H. JESUP & CO.,

Hopkinsville, Ky.
